Section 331 of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a professional retained under section 327 of the Bankruptcy Code may apply to the Court for an interim award of compensation or reimbursement of expenses not more than once every 120 days unless the court permits more frequent applications. 11 U.S.C. § 331. This is A&M’s seventh application for a monthly award of compensation and expenses and its final application for compensation and expenses.

29. The standards for a final award of compensation and expenses under § 330 also govern an interim application. 11 U.S.C. § 331. Section 330(a)(1) permits an award of either:

- i. “[R]easonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered”; and
- ii. “[R]eimbursement for actual, necessary expenses.”

30. Section 330 further provides guidance as to the relevant considerations for analyzing whether the requested compensation is reasonable:

(3) In determining what constitutes reasonable compensation...the court shall consider the nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including –

1. The time spent on such services;
2. The rates charges for such services;
3. Whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;
4. whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;
5. with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and
6. whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under this title. 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(3)(A)–(F)

33. A&M expressly incorporates by reference the Monthly Fee Statements, including the exhibits in support thereof, which include A&M's professional time and expense records for the balance of the Final Period.

34. A&M respectfully submits that the hourly rates for each professional involved in this matter, as well as the awards requested herein, are reasonable under the circumstances. 36. The Affidavit Richard Newman is annexed hereto as Exhibit F, which is submitted in accordance with the provisions of Section 504 of the Bankruptcy Code.
